The Council for British Archaeology (CBA) was established in 1944 and is an educational organization. The historic centres of Bristol, Canterbury, Exeter, Southampton, and many other places have been monitored throughout the previous week and the...